The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6, 7, 11, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Brosnahan, US 5,645,598, which discloses providing a first implant (Figure 14) in the form of a threaded partial cylinder having opposite arcuate portions 44 and 46 adapted for placement toward and at least in part within adjacent vertebral bodies (column 2, lines 35-40; column 5, lines 2-6; Figure 1; etc.), providing a second implant 10 or 10A or 10B, forming first and second partially overlapping cylindrical holes across the disc space (column 5, lines 46-49 and 55-58), and threading the implants into the holes so as to be nested closely (column 5, line 47; column 2, lines 29-31; column 4, lines 44-46; etc.).

Claims 1-5, 8-10, and 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brosnahan, US 5,645,598. Regarding claim 1 and others, the aforementioned “nested” embodiment being installed such that the mid-longitudinal axes converge to one another would have been immediately obvious, if not inherent, from Figure 2 in order to better conform the trailing ends of the implants to the outer contour of the vertebrae. Regarding claim 3 and others, tapping prior to insertion of the implants would have been obvious to the ordinary practitioner in order to facilitate or ease the action of the screwdriver (column 4, lines 30-32).

The Applicant's arguments regarding the nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection set forth in the Office action of March 10, 2008, are persuasive, and said double patenting rejection is hereby vacated. The Applicant's other remarks have also been considered but are deemed to be moot in view of the new grounds of rejection, necessitated by the added specificity in the amended claims. Therefore:

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
